COOKIE STATEMENT OPACKGROUP

The websites of OPACKGROUP and its affiliated companies, Oerlemans Plastics BV in Genderen, Plasthill BV in Hillegom, Fardem Packaging BV in Edam, Oosterwoldense Plastic Industrie BV in Oosterwolde, Perfon BV in Goor, Flexpak Transparant Verpakkingsindustrie BV in Geldermalsen, Verpakkingsindustrie Stempher B.V. in Rijssen and Opack Holding BV in Erp make use of cookies. A cookie is a small text file we send to your browser, so that we can automatically recognise your browser when you next visit our website. Cookies can collect data that are linked to the use of the website, such as the pages visited and the duration of a user session. When you use the website, the cookie sends this information back to OPACKGROUP. In this policy we explain how we use cookies and which options you have. Unless otherwise specified in this Cookie Statement, the Privacy Statement of OPACKGROUP also applies to how we process the data collected via cookies.

TYPES OF COOKIES

Cookies help us offer, protect and improve our services, for example by personalising content, specifically adjusting and measuring the statistics of advertisements and offering a safer experience. Please note that if you do not accept all cookies, you may not be able to make full use of all the functions on this website.

We use the following cookies:

a) Necessary cookies

These are anonymous cookies that enable users to view the website and use the functions on the website. The information collected by these cookies is not used for marketing purposes. If the use of this type of cookie is not permitted, several parts of this website will be disabled. The cookies will not remember which other websites you have visited either.

b) Performance-enhancing cookies

These are anonymous cookies which OPACKGROUP can use to improve its website. These cookies collect information about the way in which visitors use the website, such as information about the most visited pages or the number of shown error messages. An example of this type of cookies is Google Analytics. Google uses aggregate statistical information to give us insight into how users use websites. Google may only pass on that information to third parties if it is required to do so by law, or if those third parties process the information on behalf of Google. You can find more information about Google Analytics here.

c) Functional cookies

These are cookies by means of which OPACKGROUP can remember the choices and preferences of visitors. This means we do not constantly have to ask you about them, and OPACKGROUP can show more relevant information to individual visitors on the basis of this information. As a consequence of a refusal to use this type of cookie, OPACKGROUP will not be able to provide the same level of support to users. The information collected by these cookies is anonymous and does not enable us to follow your surfing behaviour on other websites.

d) Social media buttons

Our website has buttons that provide a link to our social media channels, in particular Facebook, LinkedIn and Twitter. These buttons function by means of bits of code originating from LinkedIn and Twitter. By means of these codes cookies are placed. OPACKGROUP does not have any influence on this. You can read in the privacy statements of these social media channels what they do with your personal and other data they process via these cookies.

DELETING COOKIES

When you visit the website, you agree to OPACKGROUP placing cookies on your device. If you do not want OPACKGROUP to place cookies on your device, you can decline the use of cookies via your browser's settings or options. Once you have done this, you may not be able to use some parts of the website or use them correctly. If you do not wish to receive any cookies at all, you can adjust the settings of your internet browser to block the placement of cookies completely. The Consumers' Association has made available a step-by-step guide online. You can also find more information about switching cookies on and off and removing them in the instructions and via the Help function of your browser.

Some tracking cookies are placed by third parties that show adverts to you via our website and other websites. You can delete these cookies centrally via Your Online Choices, so that they are not placed back again via the website of a third party.

However, it is possible that some features and services on our and other websites do not function correctly when cookies have been switched off in your browser.

ACCESS TO AND CORRECTION OF DATA

You can request access to the data about you processed by OPACKGROUP, and have them corrected, removed or transferred by sending a request to info@opackgroup.com. When you wish access to personal data linked to a cookie, you also have to send a copy of the cookie in question. You can find this in your browser's settings. To check your identity, OPACKGROUP may ask you to send a copy of your proof of identity in which your Citizen Service Number (BSN in Dutch documents) and passport photograph have been made invisible. Please note: your BSN occurs in several places on your proof of identity. Following this access request, you can request OPACKGROUP to correct or delete your personal data. Are you of the opinion that we do not handle your personal data carefully? If so, you can contact us using the contact data mentioned above. You also have the right to submit a complaint to the Dutch Data Protection Authority.
